

PSY 213 ASSIGNMENT: Research Methods in IO Psychology

1. Each student must go to the UST library to access EBSCO, Science Direct, ProQuest, Jstor, and other Electronic Resources. You may also search the internet for complete journal articles for this assignment.
2. Choose one (1) local article in any scholarly journal whether national or international. It need not be published or written by a Filipino nor published in a Philippine Journal so long as the research was conducted in the Philippines and/or about Filipinos. Photocopy / print the entire article on at least Substance 20 short bond paper (8.5"x11") using inkjet / laserjet set on at least "Normal" print setting (i.e., NOT draft). Write the complete information about the journal source on the front page of the article, above the title (i.e., Name of Journal, Volume No., Number, Date of Publication of the Journal, Place of Publication, and Publishing House).
 - a. EVEN CLASS NUMBERS must find local research on Conflict Management
 - b. ODD CLASS NUMBERS must find local research on Occupational Health (other related keywords: Work Stress, Burnout, Coping, and Strain)
3. On a separate bond paper (same specifications as above), write a summary-critique paper. Type your LAST NAME, FIRST NAME M.I. on the first line and your section on the second line, both flush left. Summarize & critique the journal article in bullet form with the following categories:
 - a. Description of participants / respondents and their respective institutions
 - b. Identify and explain the method used in the research (based on the list of methods used in IO Psychology according to your book)
 - c. Detailed summary of results
 - d. Conclusions and implications to the field of IO Psychology, and
 - e. Critique of the research on both content and methodology.
4. Attach the critique paper to the front of the local article, staple together, and submit during our class on Thursday, July 7.
5. This is an individual assignment. For each section, you are allowed to have only one other classmate having the same journal article. Thus, only 2 people in 1 section should have the same article but should have different critiques. If more than 2 people in 1 section submit the same journal article, all those with such article shall be given a grade of 0/20.